Association of Ageless Treasures PMA Agreement

DECLARATION OF PURPOSE

This Association of members hereby declares this Declaration of Purpose and the principles in it, establish the foundation for the Private Membership Association of Ageless Treasures. This Association is a private entity operating outside of public jurisdiction. It is used to protect the Association under the First and Fourteenth Amendments freedom of association rights.

This furthers our objectives to maintain and improve the health and well-being of our bodies, souls and spirits, our civil rights, constitutional guarantees, and political freedom of every member, with the goal to assist others in our nation, to re-claim our God-given rights to live in freedom. We hope to achieve this goal using principles found in the Texas Declaration of Rights, Constitution of the Republic of Texas (1836), Constitution of the United States (1787), the Bill of Rights (1787), the Articles of Confederation (ratified 1781), Gibson's Suits in Chancery and other equitable and private law-based texts.

Core Understandings Before Joining

The Association is not a public entity. Decisions and activities apply only inside the Association toward its members.

Products, herbs, education, and services are for personal use of the member and their immediate household only. They are not for commercial resale.

Members are not customers in a retail sense — we are all private contracting members of the Association.

Information shared is for informational and educational purposes only. Members do their own research and make their own decisions.

The PMA and its members do not carry liability insurance. Members accept personal responsibility for their actions and decisions made from any information shared by the association.

Dispute Resolution

Grievances are required to be resolved internally by the Association. External complaints to government agencies are waived per the contract. Any disputes arising under this Agreement shall be resolved through private negotiation between the Member and the Association. The decision of the Association shall be final and binding.

Article I — Governance

This agreement shall be governed by the principles of natural law, trust, honor, and equity which are the foundation of its own inner authority. The Association operates as a private entity and does not seek the jurisdiction of public regulatory agencies except as required by law.

The Association will be governed by the people of the association, in common consent. No one person will have authority over the other. All people within the PMA are equal and are seen as equals…not one above the other. Governance is defined as self-discipline, not authoritative. Members of the Association will support each other in the actions of the PMA as a whole.

Any disputes brought against any member of the association by any other member of the association will be resolved by the parties. If no resolution can be found, a committee or council will be formed to address the dispute. The council will weigh the facts and details of the dispute and decide on the resolution for the parties. The decision of the council will be final and by majority of the council. Any dissenting voices will be allowed to express the reason for the dissent, and a discussion will need to take place. In the end, if the dissent is not significant to the goal of relieving suffering of the parties, all voices will support the decision of the whole.

Article II — Servant Leaders / Administrators / Stewards

Leaders of the PMA will be known as servant-leaders. Any person elected or appointed into any office of the PMA will be considered a servant to the members of the PMA. Trustees have a fiduciary duty to uphold their responsibilities as trustees to themselves and to the other members of the PMA.

Article III — Duties of Beneficiaries / Members & Founding Members Club

Members' responsibilities include completing the membership agreement, following the association bylaws, paying the membership fee, and participating in activities, education or services offered by the association and purchasing products offered by the association.

This PMA acknowledges a select group of individuals known as Founding Members for their patience, dedication and loyalty during the research and development of products, services, and educational material. Founding Members enjoy certain perks, benefits and discounts that are exclusive to the Founding Members Club. One of these perks is that Founding Members are exempt from Membership Fees.

Article IV — Member Eligibility

Must be at least eighteen (18) years of age and understand the concepts of contracts and responsibilities.

Must be domiciled on the land within the geographic boundaries of any of the union states of the United States of America, or having been born on the land of one of the continental 48 states (or Hawaii or Alaska).

Must exhibit common sense, intelligence, good character and sound judgment.

Any member can be removed from the PMA for violation of any of the PMA guidelines as agreed to in this agreement.

Article V - Member Conduct & Responsibilities

All members will be expected to conduct themselves in an equitable manner, and to engage with respect and love toward all other members. Members will make every effort to present comments and opinions in a kind and concise manner. Inequitable behavior that continues after warning is grounds for dismissal.

Responsibilities include completing this agreement, following bylaws, paying the fee, and participating in the life of the Association.

Article VI — Guest Invitations

Members may invite guests to attend PMA meetings. Guests are held to the same conduct standards and may not share proprietary information outside the Association. Guests are allowed up to three visits, after which they must join as a member or discontinue attendance. The inviting member is responsible for their guest’s behavior.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

I understand that the fellow members of the Association are not doctors, lawyers, counselors, or legal experts. Any and all opinions and information shared is for informational and entertainment purposes only. It is up to me to do my own research.

I understand that within the Association no wholesaler/retailer-customer relationship exists but only a contract member-member Association relationship. Any request for assistance or products is my own free decision in an exercise of my rights.

I understand that I have freely chosen to operate in the private domain and that it is entirely my own responsibility to consider recommendations, educate myself as to efficacy/risks, and accept offered products/services as my own carefully considered decision.

I acknowledge that members of the Association do not carry liability insurance. The Trustee(s) have the right to sanction a member (including removal) upon unanimous vote after a hearing of the facts.

I agree that all personal information is held confidential. I will not file billing disputes against the Association but will seek contact by email for any issues so they can be resolved mutually.

Entire Agreement

This Agreement, the website content, and Article 1 of the Articles of Association constitutes the entire understanding between the Member and the Association and supersedes all prior agreements or understandings, whether written or oral. The Association reserves the right to amend this Agreement and Chapter bylaws, with notice to members.
